Phase-3 vaccine drive from March 1

Natl. Health Mission Director holds meeting with District Officers

Doctor's certificate must for people with comorbidities to get free vaccination

Mysuru, Feb. 25 (SSV)- Following Union Government's decision to launch Phase-3 vaccination drive covering 60-plus citizens and above 45 years of age with comorbidities from Mar. 1, a video-conference was held this morning to discuss arrangements to be made in the district.

Dr. Arundati, Mission Director, National Health Mission and Dr. Rajani, Deputy Director (Immunisation), held an online meeting with District Health Officers and informed them about the Central Government's decision on vaccination. The duo said this would be an important stage with more number of people who are vulnerable to Coronavirus. According to World Health Organisation (WHO) report, around 8 percent of Karnataka population was above 60 years.

They instructed the Officers to keep ready the list of both Government and Private Hospitals in the District as the drive will be held in coordination with Suvarna Arogya Suraksha Trust. The number of doctors, nurses, health volunteers and para-medics available in those facilities should be kept ready for mass inoculation. All empanelled hospitals must be roped in to reach out to beneficiaries.

The District Health Department must take the responsibility of training a good number of vaccinators as five persons were needed for each booth. They should be trained to deal with beneficiaries who develop side effects after vaccination.

Dr. Arundati and Dr. Rajani pointed out that persons with comorbidities have to produce certificate from doctors about their ailments or else they will not be given vaccine free of cost. This is to prevent misuse of facility by some people under the garb of suffering from lifestyle diseases like blood pressure or diabetes.

Dr. L. Ravi, Reproductive and Child Health Officer and COVID-19 Immunisation Officer said, according to data of 2019-20, the district has 3,04,464 persons above 60 years of age; around 3,85,156 in the age group of 41 years to 50 years, and 2,51,432 persons between the age group of 51 years and 60 years. But, no data was available regarding people with comorbidities. The immediate task before the District Health Department was to prepare a list of people with comorbidities and that will be possible through letters from doctors. "We will start computing details of such persons from today itself," he added.

Addiction to lavish lifestyle

SSLC rank student turns ATM thief

Buys bike worth Rs. 1.27 lakh; Stays at Lalitha Mahal Hotel from ill-gotten money

T. Narasipur, Feb. 25 (SK & BCT) - A 22-year-old PUC drop-out, who turned into a thief targeting elderly customers and villagers at ATM centres, was arrested by T. Narasipur Town Police yesterday. Police have recovered several cards from him.

Raju

Interestingly, the youth scored 590 out of 600 in SSLC, discontinued his studies midway in II PU and had taken to crime. Police said that after finding an easy way of making money, the youth led a lavish life and even stayed at the plush Lalitha Mahal Hotel in Mysuru from the ill-gotten money.

The arrested youth is Biligiri alias Raju, a resident of Gundlupet town in Chamarajanagar District. He was staying at Srinivasa Lodge in T. Narasipur and was cheating the elderly and people with rural background who came to ATMs to withdraw cash.

According to Police, Raju targeted persons with little or no knowledge of withdrawing money from ATMs. He used to lay in wait at ATMs, offer help in withdrawing money and got to know their security PIN number. After withdrawing money, he handed over a duplicate card while retaining the original. He then withdrew money from ATM within 24 hours before the customer blocks the card.

In some cases, he told his targets that cash was not coming from ATM and handed over duplicate cards to them. He later went to some other ATMs and withdrew cash from the PIN number he had memorised.

Raju was arrested based on a complaint filed by Muthu, a retired Sericulture Department employee and a resident of Gopalapura village. He had complained that Rs. 2.38 lakh was withdrawn from his account on different dates at different ATMs. The Police then got clues from public about Raju who was lurking near ATMs.

Police then scanned CCTV visuals from ATMs and found a common link in Raju withdrawing cash many times. The Police then picked him up for questioning and he confessed to have withdrawn Rs. 2.38 lakh from Muthu's account.

Nationwide stir against rising fuel prices, hike in toll fee

Trucks to stay off roads tomorrow

Mysuru, Feb. 25 (MTY&DM)- In response to the Nationwide lorry stir tomorrow called by lorry transport organisations in protest against rising fuel prices and other fee hikes concerning transport, trucks in the city and district will stay off the roads tomorrow (Feb.26).

Announcing this at a press meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here this morning, Mysuru District Lorry Owners Association President B. Kodandaram said that Mysuru District Lorry Owners Association, Mysuru Local Lorry Owners Association, Maxi-cab Owners Association and Federation of Lorry Owners Association have expressed total support to the strike.

Pointing out that the strike is in protest against rising fuel prices, hike in Vehicle Insurance premiums, hike in toll fee etc., he urged the Government to bring down fuel prices, reduce Insurance premium, bring down toll-fee and extend the Transport E-way Bill duration.

Kodandaram said that transporters are finding it extremely difficult to honour goods transport contract because of exponentially rising fuel prices and prices of spare parts.

Noting that there are about 7,000 lorries in the district transporting a variety of goods including construction materials, food grains, machinery and the like, he said that no lorry will hit the roads tomorrow and lorries, whether loaded or empty, will stay put where they are.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The noble purpose of the anti-defection law is to bring stability to Governments. So it stands to reason if it was limited to votes deciding the fate of a Government. But the law allows political parties to disqualify legislators for voting against the party line inside the legislature and anti-party conduct outside it. The law is even applicable to Rajya Sabha MPs, who have no mandate to vote out a Government. Over the years, parties have also used the anti-defection law as part of a toolkit to weaken their opposition or topple a Government. If a political party has a fewer number of legislators in a State, a larger party lures two-thirds of its MLAs into its fold — a practice permitted under the anti-defection law. If that fails, some MLAs are convinced to support a Government and pressure is exerted on Vidhana Sabha Speakers to delay their disqualification. The trend these days is to convince legislators to resign. After the Supreme Court ruled that the decisions of Speakers related to anti-defection come under judicial review, most of them get challenged before the Courts. Sometimes, the Court process takes time. How long will a law which continues to stifle debate in our legislatures continue to be a part of our Constitution? —Chakshu Roy in Hindustan Times

Dressed as grannies to get vaccine faster

Florida: Two Florida women were recently caught trying to get their second doses of the Covid-19 vaccine by disguising themselves as old ladies, to get jab faster.

Florida Department of Health in Orange County recently reported the bizarre case of two women, aged 34 and 44, who went to a Coronavirus vaccination site 'dressed up as grannies,' in order to appear over 65 and thus be eligible for a vaccine. Dr. Raul Pino, the Health Administrator for Orange County said that the women were wearing bonnets, gloves, and glasses in an attempt to make themselves look older. Staff at the center noticed that they "looked funny" and called the Police.

Interestingly, the two women had valid vaccine cards from their first vaccine shots and while authorities can't explain how they were able to get their first vaccine, it's very likely that they managed to trick vaccination staff with their disguises.

The world's roundest, costliest object

New York: Made out of a single, very expensive, crystal of silicon-28 atoms, and extensively analyzed for imperfections by both humans and computers, this "nearly perfect" sphere is the world's roundest object.

The surface of the world's roundest object is so smooth that if you were to blow it up to the size of our planet, the difference between the highest peak and the lowest valley would be between 3mts and 4.5mts (10 and 15 feet). It used to be around 15mts back when scientists started making these amazing spheres, but technology has gotten better at smoothing out even the tiniest wrinkles. However, creating such a wonder isn't cheap.

The silicone crystal alone costs around 1 million dollars, while the sphere itself, although often described as priceless, costs around 3.5 million dollars.

City sidewalks crying for attention

Sir,

Mysuru is a beautiful city. Life here is not frenetic like in other major cities and metros. Even traffic moves at a sedate pace here. Large open spaces, wide roads, and with its green cover this indeed is a fine city to live in.

However, there are several issues here that stand out like sore thumbs. Take footpaths, for instance. There are wide footpaths in most of the roads. Alas, they are hardly usable, forcing pedestrians to walk on roads, endangering life and limbs.

Almost all the footpaths are overgrown with weeds and grass, uneven and dotted with pits and mounds, or littered with rubble and garbage. It's surprising that such expansive footpaths are left in this deplorable condition that render them unusable.

It's high time the Mayor, the City Corporation or the MUDA woke up to this awful condition of the sidewalks. These broad sidewalks are an asset in any city, but sadly, in Mysuru, they are grossly wasted and rendered unusable.

Once cleared of all the weeds, rubble and garbage they can be paved. An added feature could be a narrow stretch of manicured grass or a line of well-tended shrubs on the flanks.

This is just a simple but very essential step to further beautify the city. By any reckoning, pedestrians of the city deserve this simple amenity.

Big cat menace in South Kodagu

150 Forest personnel set up camps to trap elusive tiger

Sharp-shooters join patrol, cameras laid and watch-towers installed inside coffee estates

Temporary watch-tower to track tiger.

Forest officers scan camera trap visuals at the base camp. Picture below shows the kitchen at the camp set up by the Forest Department at T. Shettigeri village to trap the elusive tiger.

Ponnampet, Feb. 25 (Harish& BCT)- The operation launched by the Forest Department to trap the elusive tiger that has spread terror in parts of South Kodagu has so far proven futile. At the same time, killing of cattle heads have continued and the latest killing was reported from Bellur where a Jersey breed cow became a prey to the big cat. Though the tiger had killed the cow, it had not eaten the carcass.

This particular tiger has been on the prowl in T. Shettigeri, Srimangala, Bellur, West Nemmale, Thavalageri and surrounding areas. The Jersey cow, owned by Bachiraniyanda Raghu, was killed just a kilometre from the house of Machamada Jeevan Bopanna at Thavalageri where the tiger had killed a calf on Monday night.

The attempts by the Forest Department to capture the big cat have yielded no results so far. But the tiger has been spotted near Birunani on the Hysodlur-Badagarakeri Road on Tuesday and the local residents spotted it crossing the road. It was also spotted roaming near Porad village. Yesterday, the fully-grown tiger was sighted at Guttukolli near Thavalageri. From Saturday last, the tiger has killed a teenager and a 60-year-old woman and has also killed four cattle heads and a calf. Residents say that there are two tigers on the prowl near Birunani and Thavalageri area as the villages are at least 15 kilometres apart. The Department officials and staff have set up mini camps near T. Shettigeri and are patrolling adjoining areas.

Watch-towers

Temporary watch-towers where guards sit all day and night have been constructed amidst coffee estates to keep a watch on the tiger's movements. Advanced night-vision binoculars are being used in the operation. Sharp-shooters have been summoned to lead the operation quickly in case the tiger is sighted. They too are joining the surveillance and patrol teams.

More than 150 personnel from various ranks of the Department are camping at the villages and food is being cooked at the tent houses. Cameras have been set up inside the estates on the route the tiger has taken before and near the places where the killings have occurred.

In the camps, sections have been created to monitor the camera footages and officers take turns to scan the visuals recorded with computers and laptops.

Meanwhile, representatives from Kodagu Growers' Association met Forest officials who are involved in the operation at T. Shettigeri village yesterday and told the Department staff that people were scared to venture out of the houses in this peak coffee-picking season where along with coffee-picking, tree trimming and sprinkler works too are undertaken.

They urged the authorities to close schools and Anganwadi Kendras in the tiger operation areas till the big cat is captured. In case there is requirement of manpower and technical support for the operation, the head office in Bengaluru would be informed, assured officers.

Founder-Member of Kodagu Growers' Association Manira Muthappa, Members Annira Harish Madappa, Srimangala Hobli Association President Kalimada Thammu Muthanna, T. Shettigeri Kodava Samaja President Chottekmada Vishwanath, DFOs Prabhakaran, Shivaram Babu, Chakrapani and others were present.

Forest Minister must visit

The Rajya Raitha Sangha Kodagu District President Kadyamada Manu Somaiah has urged the Forest Minister to visit the district and allow the people to shoot down man-eater tigers.

Addressing reporters at Inspection Bungalow in Ponnampet yesterday, he said that even after conducting many operations, the Forest Department has failed to capture the tiger.

Tiger pugmarks have been found in various parts of South Kodagu and people were terrorised. He threatened to call for Kodagu bandh if the tigers on the prowl are not captured. "The Minister should conduct a meeting with high-level officers and take measures to control the tiger menace. If the meeting is not held within a week, the Raitha Sangha will give a call for Kodagu Bandh," he warned.

COVID-19 second wave scare

KSOU Bhavan building to remain with District Administration

Mysuru, Feb. 25 (RK&SSV)- The District Administration has decided to keep under its control the Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) Academic Bhavan Building on Mysuru-Nanjangud Road for sometime in wake of reports of second wave of COVID-19 pandemic.

This building was taken over by the District Administration when Corona positive cases rocked the city and district, and had converted it into COVID Care Centre (CCC). Since then, this building had been under the control of District Administration. With no patient at the Centre, thanks to sharp decline in Corona positive cases, the whole building had been sanitised and fumigated to keep it ready for use in case of second wave.

"We are ready with all facilities to treat Corona positive patients. Around 600 beds are available at this Centre. All the facilities such as cots, mattresses and the medical equipment are thoroughly sanitised to use in case of emergency. We will keep this Centre in our possession till the scare of second wave of COVID-19 goes away," Lt. Col. Dr. S.U. Ashok, Nodal Officer of KSOU CCC, told Star of Mysore.

According to him, this Centre had a team of 5-6 doctors, para-medics and nurses for many months to treat the COVID-19 patients. But none of them are working here since no single patient was under treatment. With the medical experts and scientists not ruling of the possible second wave of Corona due to sudden spurt in neighbouring States of Kerala and Maharashtra, it had been decided to have this Centre for some days. Once the cases come down, the building will be handed over back to the KSOU authorities.

It may be mentioned here that all other CCCs that functioned at K.R. Hospital, ESI, District Hospital, JSS and Bibi Ayesha Milli Hospital had been closed down with no admission of patients.

Scrapping of vehicles

Mysuru New Goods Terminal (MNGT) Lorry Owners Association President Abdul

Khader Shahid said that the Union Government's decision to scrap all types of vehicles that are over 15 years old is not only unscientific, but impractical.

Pointing out that the Government has not announced any alternative measures for such vehicle owners, he wanted to know whether the Government will give incentives or other benefits to owners who lose their vehicles due to the new scrapping policy.

Noting that more than 70 percent of local lorries in Mysuru are over 15 years old, he said that the new scrap policy has come as a bolt from the blue to lorry owners who are facing huge financial losses. He urged the Government to announce alternative measures before going ahead in implementing the scrap policy.

Mysuru Maxi-cab Owners Association President A.C. Ravi, who also addressed the press meet, said that the Association has expressed moral support for tomorrow's Nationwide lorry stir.

Claiming that over 50 percent of maxi-cabs have run out of business following outbreak of the deadly COVID-19 pandemic in March last year, Ravi said that many maxi-cabs have either been seized by finance companies for default on loan repayments or the owners have sold them out of frustration due to mounting losses or for want of business.

He also condemned the Government's order asking taxi owners who entered Kerala carrying tourists in the period between 2014 and 2016 to pay the difference amount in entry tax, following a Court verdict that upheld the hike in entry tax in that period.

M. Swami, S. Sadashiva, Shankar and Vishwa, who represent different transport associations, were present at the press meet.

IPS Officers take vaccine: Show way to Department staff

City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, SP C.B. Ryshyanth, Karnataka Police Academy Director Vipul Kumar and Deputy Director Dr. Suman D. Pennekar take the vaccination.

Mysuru, Feb. 25 (SSV)- City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, District Superintendent of Police C.B. Ryshyanth, Karnataka Police Academy Director Vipul Kumar and Deputy Director Dr. Suman D. Pennekar, all IPS Officers, have taken COVID-19 vaccine to create confidence among the Department colleagues that the vaccine was safe.

These officers took the vaccine at a special camp conducted by Health Department at City Armed Reserve (CAR) Headquarters for the sake of Police personnel here yesterday.

The State Government has been trying to push up the administration of vaccine especially among frontline workers in view of lukewarm response from the day of launching vaccine drive exclusively for them from Feb 15. So far, the coverage has been just 45.7 per cent. Of the total 17,470 frontline workers, only 7,977 persons have taken vaccine till yesterday. The frontline workers comprise Police, Home Guards, Prisons, Municipality, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj, Revenue, Urban Development. So far, the poor response has been from Revenue Department where only 708 persons have taken vaccine as against the total 2,225. This is despite Deputy Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri taking the jab to prove the efficacy of the vaccine.

Daunting task

Apart from making arrangements for vaccination at various locations in the district, Officers of Health Department are meeting Heads of various Departments to convince them to take the vaccine so that other workers would follow. As part of it, Dr. L. Ravi, Reproductive and Child Health Officer and COVID-19 Immunisation Officer, and his team, have been holding sensitisation programme with various Departments to remove all doubts about the vaccine.

Three days ago, they had met City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta and had appealed him to take the vaccine to create confidence among his staff. Accordingly, the city top cop took it yesterday. Other IPS Officers also followed the suit and got the first shot. The Government has asked Health Department to mop up drive for frontline workers by Mar. 5 and cover as much as possible within that time.

Last day today

Meanwhile, today will be the last chance for the registered healthcare workers to get the first dose of vaccine. In case they failed to get vaccinated today, their names would be frozen and they would not be able to upload their names in CoWIN portal for availing free vaccination. Already, administering the second dose of vaccine has begun last week and it is likely to be wrapped up soon. The registered healthcare workers have been sent SMS with details of time and venue for vaccination.

According to bulletin, as against 7,978 workers in MOHA category, 4,506 are vaccinated. Of the total 4,063 workers in MOHUA category, 1,632 are vaccinated. Out of 2,225 revenue workers, 708 are vaccinated. Of the total 3,204 RDPR workers, 1,131 are vaccinated. In total, as against the total of 17,470 workers, only 7,977 are vaccinated.

Vaccination for 60-plus, above 45 years of age with comorbidities from Mar. 1

Free jab at Govt. Hospitals; Nominal rate at Pvt. Hospitals; Price of two doses to be announced in 2-3 days

Prakash Javedkar

New Delhi, Feb.25 (SSV)-The Union Government has said the second phase of COVID-19 vaccination drive would begin from March 1 for all citizens above 60 years of age and those over 45 years with comorbidities.

This was announced by Union Information and Broadcasting Minister Prakash Javedkar after the Union Cabinet meeting held yesterday. While the vaccine will be available for free at 10,000-odd Government healthcare facilities, the beneficiaries will have to pay at the estimated 20,000 private facilities that are expected to be roped in.

"The cost of vaccination in the private sector will be announced by the Union Health Ministry in the next two-three days. We are in discussions with the private hospitals," he noted.

"The first round of vaccination was began on Jan. 16 and so far administered 1.07 crore doses. We are one of the fastest countries to achieve this feat. We also reported very few serious adverse events. Also, 14 lakh beneficiaries have already received the second dose. The healthcare and frontline workers were vaccinated free of cost. The Government has decided that the next phase will begin from Mar.1," Javedkar said.

Earlier, the National Expert Group on Vaccine administration for COVID-19 had said that the combined population of those over 50 years and those less than 50 years with comorbidities is about 27 crore.

The announcement of the second phase comes in the backdrop of a surge in cases being reported in several States. The Union Ministry said that high level multi-disciplinary teams have been sent to Maharashtra, Kerala, Chattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat, Punjab, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, West Bengal and Jammu and Kashmir.

The decision to vaccinate the next priority group free of cost at Government facilities follows the Union Budget announcement that Rs.35,000 crore had been set aside for COVID vaccination.

Brothers end life

- Upset with advice, younger one hangs self
- Elder brother consumes pesticide a day later

The deceased brothers Venkatesh and Harish.

Hanagodu, Feb. 25 (Srinidhi, Mahesh& BCT)- A day after his younger brother hanged himself to death, the victim's elder brother, unable to bear the pain of his sibling's death, consumed pesticide and ended his life this morning. This heart-rending incident was reported from a village in H.D. Kote Taluk.

The two brothers are 24-year-old Harish who lived at Yelehundi village in H.D. Kote Taluk and 26-year-old Venkatesh, a resident of Mysuru. They are the sons of Chinne Gowda. The brothers were close to each other and while Harish had taken up farming in the family's two-acre land, Venkatesh was working in Mysuru. Both were bachelors and earned considerably well to support their family by following scientific methods of farming.

Last night, Harish, who had completed his graduation in Mysuru, was spotted by villagers driving his tractor in great speed. Some of the villagers and family well-wishers telephoned Venkatesh and complained about rash driving. Irked by this, Venkatesh advised his brother to drive safe and had a long conversation with him.

Reportedly hurt by his brother's words, a sensitive Harish told his father last evening that he was going to the field and left home. He later hung himself to a tree with a wire that is used for drip irrigation. When Harish did not return till late in the night, his father Chinne Gowda went in search of him. He found Harish's body hanging from a tree.

A large crowd gathered at the spot and someone took photos of the dead body and sent them to Venkatesh, reporting the incident and asking him to rush to the village. Venkatesh left Mysuru early this morning in a bus. Unable to bear the pain of his brother's death, Venkatesh got down from the bus at Hanchipura and consumed pesticide that he had purchased from a hardware shop there.

Venkatesh was spotted writhing in pain by some villagers of Hanchipura but he died before he was taken to a hospital. The villagers managed to obtain the contact details of the family at Yelehundi from Venkatesh's pockets and the incident was reported to them.

According to villagers, Harish and Venkatesh were close to each other and Venkatesh was excited about Harish taking up farming and supporting their parents. As the bodies were brought to Yelehundi, the parents and relatives were inconsolable as the family has lost their two bread-winners. When the bodies were being taken for last rites, the parents clung on to them and were pleading with the mourners not to take them away, neighbours said.

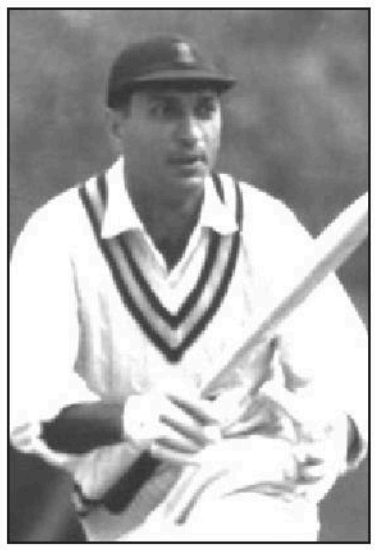
CRICKET TALK

By U.B. Acharya

Ashwin Ravichandran Par Excellent

Vinoo Mankad



Polly Umrigar

Ashwin Ravichandran

In the previous Test match against England, India's Ashwin Ravichandran not only collected five wickets in the first innings but also scored a brilliant century in the second innings in the company of tail enders. His brilliant performance resulted in India registering a glorious victory thus equalling the series at 1-1. Naturally he was declared as the 'Man of the Match' with a trophy and a cash award of Rs. 1,00,000. While the trophy is for keeps, the prize money is usually shared equally among the team members!

For an all-rounder, this is indeed a unique feat. Looking at the statistics of cricket, one would note that a century and five wickets in an innings in a Test match have been accomplished by 23 players for a total of 33 times. Of these 23 players, six players namely Ian Botham of England (5 times), Ashwin Ravichandran of India (3 times) and Jacques Kallis of South Africa, Mushtak Mohammad of Pakistan, Shakib Al-Hassan of Bangladesh and Gary Sobers of West Indies have achieved this feat twice.

Of the three times Ashwin achieved this feat, he was responsible for India's victory twice — in 2016 when India won against West Indies and now in 2021 against England. One of them in 2011 against West Indies was drawn. Of the remaining 17 players who have achieved this feat once each, two Indian players are involved. These two are Vinoo Mankad and Polly Umrigar respectively.

Mankad achieved this feat in 1952 against England at Lord's ground with a massive 184 runs and a five wickets haul. Indian team was so weak then and in spite of this one-man show, India lost the match by 8 wickets. This match was rightly called 'Mankad's Test' though we lost the match. In the case of Umrigar, this feat was achieved in Sabina Park in West Indies in 1953 and his feat helped India draw the match.

Among the other players who performed this feat, Wasim Akram's feat in Australia against them in 1990s is note worthy. Richie Benaud the young Australian captain also did this feat in the 1950s.

Being a cricket enthusiast, as a young boy I had listened to the commentaries of Mankad's and Umrigar's match and now as a retired person have watched live commentary of all the three matches of Ashwin. Keep it up Ashwin and let India reach Rank No.1 in Test Cricket soon.

WORD OF THE DAY

Limn

Pronunciation: LIM.
Meaning: To draw or paint on a surface; to outline in clear sharp detail : delineate; describe.
Origin: Allow us to shed some light on the history of limn, a word with lustrous origins. Limn traces to the Anglo-French verb aluminer and ultimately to the Latin illuminare, which means "to illuminate." Its use as an English verb dates from the days of Middle English; at first, limn referred to the action of illuminating (that is, decorating) medieval manuscripts with gold, silver, or brilliant colours. William Shakespeare extended the term to painting in his poem Venus and Adonis: "Look when a painter would surpass the life / In limning out a well-proportioned steed...."
Example: "The book limns how the two men, so different in their origins and art, were remarkably similar in profound ways." — Nancy Hass

THE ODD WORD

Laetificate

To cheer up.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Land-lubber

Meaning: In its original meaning land-lubber was sailor's term of contempt for a landsman. In more recent years it is a jokey name given to anyone who dislikes sailing or is incompetent in boats. Note that, like many words, land-lubber must originally have been two words - land and lubber. It progressed to hyphenated land-lubber around 1700 and is now often spelled as the single word landlubber.
Origin: Land-lubber isn't, as some people think, a variant of land-lover, but derives from the much earlier word lubber. A lubber was the name for a big, clumsy lout or layabout. The word is now pretty much obsolete but in its day was a very common and has existed since at least the 14th century, when it appeared in print in William Langland's poem Piers Plowman, 1362. Other lubbers were named, for instance, an abbey-lubber was an idle or debauched monk. What sailors meant by a land-lubber wasn't someone who stayed on land. The term was reserved for those inexperienced members of the crew who they thought should have stayed on land.
In the heyday of sail, in Georgian England, a menial job aboard a ship was a fall-back employment for any man who couldn't find work on land. Life on a sailing ship was laborious and dangerous and the inexperienced landsmen who didn't know the ropes were despised by seasoned seamen.
